India Manufacturing Week

02/22-24

Infinity Expo is organizing India Manufacturing Week from 22-24 February, 2018 at Bombay Exhibition Centre, Mumbai to create a platform for SME's to supply products and services to OEM's, Tier I and Tier II manufacturers.

The show will have the following key focus elements:

Aero Def India – a show focusing on connecting Indian SME's with the demand that the Defence manufacturing sector is creating. This will aim to build a partnership between suppliers of specialized raw materials, alloys, composites, mechanical and electrical components, manufacturing services and defence production companies of Indian and international origin.

India Subcon – an innovative platform for OEM's and large manufacturers to meet and transact business with subcontractors in the manufacturing space providing services like sheet metal work, screw cutting, machining, surface finishing, design, engineering, testing, etc.

Smart Manufacturing – the digital revolution is creating an increasingly significant role for advanced technologies in manufacturing. This section will allow players in the field of additive manufacturing, prototyping, simulation, testing, advanced and reverse engineering to showcase their strengths to buyers across levels in the manufacturing sector.

Subcontracting Conference – a two-day subcontracting conference will put a spotlight on the role of outsourcing of manufacturing processes and best practice in strengthening manufacturing supply chain, says Ramesh Behl, Project Director of Infinity Expo India.

WIN EURASIA

03/15-18

Set to be held in TÜYAP on March 15 - 18, 2018 with the slogan "Union makes strength!", WIN EURASIA brings together 6 international industrial exhibitions under a single roof again. WIN EURASIA is expecting about 3,000 exhibitors and 87,000 visitors from around the world. Alexander Kühnel, General Manager of Hannover Fairs Turkey says, "WIN EURASIA is one of the exhibitions with the highest international potential for both exhibitors and visitors. We believe that we will make a great contribution to works conducted in order to make our country one of the most strategic exhibition centers in the world with WIN EURASIA. Exhibitions should become the central base of knowledge and experience as much as of trade. Therefore we have created a space for experience in WIN EURASIA regarding Industry 4.0".

Assigning a special area to Industry 4.0, WIN EURASIA will offer local and foreign companies an opportunity to promote their latest technology products and services in Istanbul. WIN EURASIA will be a display where the world industry giants will compete to show their latest technologies using the new applications of the event and the special areas realized with a special concept focusing on Industry 4.0. Aiming to offer a 360 degrees perspective to the production industry, the exhibition will enable its exhibitors to have first-hand experience with technological developments such as automation, digitalization, internet of things and enhanced reality.

The entire eco-system needed for the factories of the future, from sheet processing to metal shaping technologies, automation services to electric and electronic equipment, hydraulic and pneumatic services to on-site logistics will be displayed in WIN EURASIA this year.
