In the category of fastener manufacturers, a total of 9 companies are ranked in the top 1,000. This is 4 companies more, compared with 5 companies listed last time by Commercial Times. Zhejiang Tong Ming Stainless Steel Products and Gem-Year Industrial continue to remain the top two Taiwanese fastener companies in China. After dropping out of the ranking last year, Xiamen Boltec jumped to third place this year and replaced Suzhou New Best Wire Tech.

The 2025 ranking list includes 4 more entrants than in 2024: Xiamen Boltec, which produces and sells fasteners; Gem-Safe, which sells fasteners; new entrant Xiamen Bolwir (specializing in coiled wire drawing and spheroidizing processing); and new entrant Suzhou Yeswin (producing and selling standard fasteners and parts). Additionally, Zhejiang Tong Ming Stainless Steel Products, Gem-Year Industrial, Suzhou New Best Wire Tech, and Chun Yu (Dongguan) Metal Products have all been on the list continuously for the past three years. Except for Zhejiang Tong Ming, the other three have even appeared on the list for the past four years, making them regulars on the ranking list.

In 2025, the entrants, which are a total of 4 companies, with increased revenue are marked with an upward red arrow. This number stays the same with last year. In terms of revenue growth, Suzhou New Best Wire Tech experienced the highest increase, reaching 3.79%, while Gem-Safe saw the largest decline, dropping by as much as 23.19%. Regarding pre-tax profit margin, the new entrant Suzhou Yeswin ranked the highest, achieving 15.50%.

In 2025, there are 4 companies on the list with revenues exceeding RMB 1 billion, doubling the 2 companies in 2024. Moreover, the total number of entrants has nearly doubled, indicating that the revenue competitiveness of leading Taiwanese-owned fastener companies in China has improved over the past year. Notably, up to three of the listed companies are subsidiaries of QST International, whereas in 2024, QST International had no subsidiaries ranked among the top 1,000. This demonstrates strong revenue growth momentum for QST International in the past year. Gem-Year Industrial also has two subsidiaries on the list. On the other hand, the parent companies of the listed entrants are almost the same as in 2024, revealing that the market of Taiwanese-owned fastener companies in China is overall divided among six dominant players: Tong Ming Enterprise, Gem-Year, New Best Wire Industrial, Tycoons Group Enterprise, Chun Yu Works, and QST International. ■
