

Fastener World Magazine has been with the global fastener industry since its first issue published in 1989. All the previous issues we have released are not only like the miniature of Taiwanese fastener industry, but are also a part of the development of the global fastener industry. Let's now review year by year the greatest moments we have been through together in the past starting from this issue.

We are now reviewing the great moments of Taiwanese fastener industry back in 1991. This year former Chun Zu president Te Nan Sun was elected the 9th term of chairman of Taiwan Industrial Fasteners Institute (TIFI). He, Yi Hsiung Chiang (from Yung Feng Screws), and Suei Chuang Chan (from Yow Meng) were working together to speak for Taiwanese fastener industry. Time flies really fast, TIFI has selected its 17th term of chairman and has grown into a mature and well-organized occupational organization. President Anchor T. H. Chang from Anchor Fasteners is the incumbent TIFI chairman speaking for the interests of the association members.

董事長 王文山先生

Former Rodex president Wen Shan Wang officially announced that the name of his Thailand factory was changed to Dura Fasteners under the same management and would focus on the production and sales of stainless steel fasteners. The fact proves that Wang's proactive insight has led Rodex to become a publicly traded company.
